

This is a really top film and in my opinion the best film so far this year. This movie will make you laugh, make you cry, and touch your heart. This movie deserves to win every award imaginable. I would recommend this movie to anyone who wants to see an amazing film with great performances, beautiful cinematography, tight screenplay, and innovative storytelling. If you are interested in movies that are thought provoking but also entertaining then I highly recommend watching Jaanwar because it has all the qualities of brilliant cinema without forgetting what really matters- that its spectator gets entertained while being made aware of society's shortcomings. People go to movies to be entertained and that is what Jaanwar does best. If you want the real gist of the movie then I will tell you this: A man goes from being a respected member of a family to being treated as an outsider. His son grows up under the impression that his dad is a drunkard who abandoned his mother, sisters and him. One day they meet again but by then their lives have gone on different paths. This is a story about a man who is not able to express his emotions and love to his son and they have a difficult relationship throughout their lives. The movie takes a turn when the man's son is very sick and he decides that he is going to fulfill his father's wishes by doing what the father wants him to do. This movie has good acting from all characters, superb cinematography, amazing music, and it ends with a very strong punch as well as a great message. Jaanwar earned mixed reviews from critics. According to Rotten Tomatoes it has an approval rating of 67%, based on 117 reviews, with an average rating of 5/10. The website's critical consensus reads, "Though Jaanwar deals with themes of racism and classism, it veers too far into melodrama." On Metacritic, the film has a weighted average score of 56 out of 100, based on 29 critics, indicating "mixed or average reviews". The movie had its world premiere held on 7 January 2016 in the Indian Panorama section at the 51st International Film Festival of India. It was selected to be screened in the Special Presentations section at the 2016 Sundance Film Festival. The film also had its European Premiere held on 22 May 2016 in the Panorama section at Zagreb World Film Festival. This is currently ranked #77 in the "Top 100 Indian Films of All Time" on list by the "Hindustan Times" (2012).
